

WHITE SOX RALLY TAKES SIXTH GAME

MAYOR CUTS COURT TO SAVE CASH

Whole Commission Will Vote
as Unit on Resolution.
POLICE BENCH WILL DO
New Plan Proposed to Stay in Six-Mill Levy.

A resolution to abolish the municipal court of Oklahoma City will be introduced by Mayor Walton at the meeting of the commissioners this afternoon.

The mayor declined to make any statement further than what he said yesterday when he declared that the court as it now stands is a farce and that he will save the city about $5,000 a year by doing away with it.

Unanimous Vote Seen.

That the resolution will be passed without a dissenting vote was the general opinion of city commissioners this morning all of them saying that it would be a good thing.

Joe Patterson, commissioner of public property, said that he heartily approves of the mayor's attitude and that he will vote for the measure.

"If the mayor is sincere in trying to save the tax payers any great amount of money perhaps he can find by further investigation where he can save the tax payers even a greater amount than will be saved by doing away with the municipal court," Mr. Patterson said.

Munden May Be Judge.

The matter of who shall be judge of the police court when it is established was not bothering the mayor this morning.

"Perhaps Judge Munden will be, perhaps not," he said.

He said that it is likely the judge of a court will hold the position temporarily and no appointment be made for a while. Judge Munden has no intention of resigning, it was said this morning, but will stay with the municipal court until the last.

May Pay Expenses
With Bond Money

Mayor Walton has found a way to stay within the six mill levy authorized by the state law and not cut the proposed city budget of $604,000, he said this morning.

The tax levy question will be discussed at the meeting of the city commissioners this afternoon, the mayor said, where O. L. Price, assistant municipal counselor, will present the views of the mayor in legal form.

Mr. Price and the mayor said that by taking $127,000 which they say Mike Donnelly, commissioner of finance, has been using to retire bonds in the water department and pay interest they can swell the general fund to the necessary point. It is the opinion of Mr. Price that this amount legally belongs in the general fund and not for retiring bonds.

Then there is the library fund of $21,000 which should be raised by a two mill levy according to Mr. Price, and which will be placed alongside the $127,000. By taking $67,000 off the street repair item list the proposed budget will be still nearer realization. This will bring the total budget for general operating expenses to about $595,000, which can be obtained easily by a six mill levy, Mr. Price said.

The mayor said that he will not cut down the present police force or make a cut in any other department.

Mr. Donnelly said that he will wait till the commissioners meet to see the plan of the majority and discuss it at that time.

Joe Patterson, commissioner of public property, said that he doesn't see through the majority's plan but that he will fight any attempt to increase the tax levy above six mills.

Banker's Wife Tries to Kill Self in West

Mrs. W. C. Tichenor Attempts Suicide Before Los Angeles Hotel Guests.

Mrs. W. C. Tichenor, wife of Captain W. C. Tichenor, a teller employed in an Oklahoma City bank, attempted to commit suicide in the presence of guests of a fashionable hotel in Los Angeles today, according to a telegram received in Oklahoma City this afternoon.

Tichenor said he had received a pitiful letter from his wife yesterday, but stated that the note gave no indication of an attempt to take her life. Tichenor said he filed suit against Mrs. Tichenor for divorce a month ago, alleging infidelity and extreme cruelty.

When he returned from service in France in August, Tichenor said he found that his wife had been unfaithful to him. The girl's maiden name was Signora Able. She is the daughter of John W. Able of Mangum. Tichenor organized Troop C of the First Oklahoma squadron of guard cavalry at McAlester several years ago. At Camp Bowie the outfit was put in the 11th Ammunition train.

According to press dispatches from Los Angeles, Mrs. Tichenor, in explaining her action, said she was despondent because her husband had fallen in love with a French girl overseas and left her. Tichenor said that story was preposterous.

FLOCK OF FISH
AT MUNICIPAL DAM

Two thousand pounds of fish in two hours is the record of Joe Patterson, commissioner of public property. And he didn't go to the seaside to make this record, either—did it right at home, at the municipal dam.

Trouble with the filtration system made it necessary to drain the reservoir, he said this morning, and he actually caught 2,000 pounds of fish which he distributed among the orphanages of the city.

SESSION OF LEGISLATURE IN JANUARY

Governor Anxious to Revise Oklahoma Constitution.

SUFFRAGE VOTE ALSO

Brief Extra Assembly to Indorse Federal Amendment.

Close friends and advisers of Governor Robertson admitted at the capital this morning that demands for an extra session of the legislature are increasing, and declared that a call to convene the lawmakers in January is almost assured.

Suffrage leaders have renewed their efforts during the past few days for an extra session to ratify the federal suffrage amendment, and the fact that they claim to have a majority of the members of both houses pledged to vote for ratification and to work without pay, is beginning to impress itself upon the governor, his friends declare.

To Revise Constitution.

The fact that the governor recently declared in favor of complete revision of the constitution, which can be done only by the calling of a constitutional convention, is another matter that officials declare indicates an extra session will be held.

Although opposing an extra session for the specific purpose of ratifying the suffrage amendment, the governor has said all along that an extra session "may" be called for some other purpose, and in this connection his statement favoring revision of the constitution is considered highly significant.

The governor left last night for a few days' outing in McCurtain county without giving suffrage leaders an answer to their latest petition to convene the law makers in extra session. However, it was stated at his office that his attitude upon that question remains unchanged.

The only way by which the governor's desire for revision of the organic law can be carried out is by legislative action, submitting the question of calling a constitutional convention to a vote of the people. The question must be submitted to the people at least once in every twenty years, and it was pointed out this morning, if the governor wants this accomplished during his administration the question ought to get before the people some time next year.

Need Is Great.

Lawyers and legislators generally are of the opinion, it is said, that the need for revision of the constitution is great. The state has outgrown many of its provisions, which at present are operating as a barrier against progress along certain lines, it is declared.

The high cost of building material, which has put an end to the state building program, is another matter that figures prominently in the extra session consideration. No decline in the cost of building material is expected by the board of affairs within the next year, and the only way by which the building program can be carried out is increased appropriations by an extra session, or the creation of huge deficiencies by the governor.

SHANTUNG HOLDS
SENATE ACTION

Early Vote Is Promised by Democratic Leaders.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Until senate leaders formally agree upon a definite program regarding a vote on the Shantung amendments, debate on the peace treaty will proceed along almost any line.

Half an hour's reading will bring the senate to that part of the pact relating to award of Shantung to Japan and which the foreign relations committee would give back to China.

As the next fight will be on this provision, Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, in charge of the democratic forces, indicated today he would insist upon early action.

PARLEY CANNOT FAIL, IS LANE'S WORD TO MEET

"Conference Is Greatest of All Times," Says Secretary.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Speaking today before President Wilson's industrial conference of which he was elected permanent chairman, Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane declared that capital, labor and the public have come to Washington to draft a "declaration of independence, not a declaration of independence."

Secretary Lane deplored the fact that President Wilson's illness prevented him from appearing in person before the conference, but intimated that the president is so well on the road to recovery that he may yet be a factor in the conference. "The word from the White House is one cheering that I believe it yet possible that you may have the inspiration of his presence and his word," he said.

"I look upon this conference as the greatest extra-legal assemblage ever got together in this country."

"There are some who have doubted its success. Gentlemen, it can not fail. The spirit of this conference is its need."

Disagreement over rules proposed for the governing of the industrial conference resulted in the conference adjourning suddenly today afternoon. It will meet again at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

As proposed by committee, the rules provided that all conclusions and decisions must be arrived at by unanimous vote of the three groups representing capital, labor and the public, while the decision of each individual group would be by a majority of the members of that group. The rule was attacked by John Spargo, of New York, a delegate representing the public.

COMMISSION CAN'T FORCE RAILROADS TO FURNISH TANKS

The corporation commission is without authority to require railroads to furnish tank cars for the transportation of oil to and from refineries, the supreme court held today in setting aside an order of the corporation commission directing the Frisco railroad company to furnish cars for the use of a refinery at Lawton.

Oil and gasoline is of an "extraordinary character," and railroad companies are not required to furnish facilities for the transportation of other than ordinary commodities, the court held.

Mrs. Anna Laskey of Oklahoma City Is the Aspirant.

Mrs. Anna Laskey, of Oklahoma City, filed with the state election board today as a candidate for the democratic nomination for Fifth district representative in the special election on October 18. Mrs. Laskey is the first woman to file in Oklahoma to become a candidate for an elective federal office.

"I believe there are enough women in this district to nominate one of their own for representative, and I feel sure they will give me their support, although, of course, I am not relying entirely on the women's vote," said Mrs. Laskey.

She said she would announce her platform and begin an aggressive campaign within the next day or two.

The time in which candidates may file ends tonight at midnight. Today also marks the end of the supplemental registration for new voters in the district.

RATIFYING OF
DRY AMENDMENT
ARGUED SOON

Freeling and Fulton to Present State's Arguments.

Arguments involving validity of the action of the legislature last winter in ratifying the national prohibition amendment will be made before the supreme court within the next week or ten days, it was said this morning at the attorney general's office.

Attorney General Freeling and Elmer Fulton, former member of congress from Oklahoma, will represent the state.

A referendum petition, asking that the amendment be submitted to a vote of the people of the state, was offered for filing some time ago, but was rejected by the secretary of state on the grounds that the amendment already had been ratified by the legislature.

The resolution ratifying the amendment did not carry an emergency section, and it is the contention of those backing the petition that this makes it subject to the referendum under the Oklahoma constitution.

OKMULGEE ROAD WORK CONTRACT DECLARED VOID

Court Sustains Objection on No Estimate of Cost.

Contract of the Western Paving company for the construction of $800,000 worth of hard surfaced roads in Okmulgee county was declared void by the supreme court today.

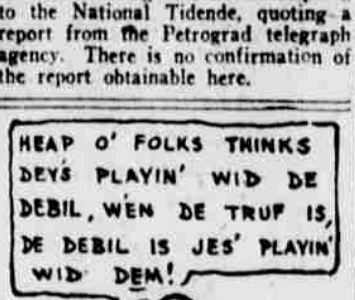

The court sustained the objections of a number of Okmulgee county taxpayers to the contract of the Oklahoma City company on the ground that it was invalid because no estimate of the cost of the construction of the roads was made by the supervising engineer before the contract was awarded.

Validity of the bond issue for the $800,000 involved in the contract is questioned in court proceedings now pending in the courts of Okmulgee county.
